Обо мне

Software Engineer, skilled in React Native Development with 5 years of experience and a passion for AI and Data Science. My expertise includes building cross-platform applications using modern technologies, creating responsive UI designs, and integrating APIs into mobile applications, I have a strong working understanding of JavaScript, React, Redux, React Query, Typescript and other related technologies. I also know Python and data science libraries such as Pandas and NumPy. I am committed to staying updated with the latest trends and collaborating with cross-functional teams.
