Обо мне

With pleasure, I like to listen from friends and acquaintances about the world of technology and IT-things. I try to develop myself, learn more and more new things and analyze various kinds of events.

That's how I came to the conclusion that it's time to try myself as a data analyst. My plans are to get the maximum technical skills and knowledge to effectively perform tasks as an analyst. To do this, I watch various webinars on YouTube, read articles in Telegram groups. There was also an additional training from EPAM Systems (Summer Bootcamp) on .NET development and a course from Stepik Educational Platform (Python Programming) on Python
