Обо мне

.NET Developer with 1 year of commercial software development experience in outstaffing company. Solid understanding of backend technologies and development lifecycle.

Participated in the project that started from scratch and joined the project which lasted 3 years. Implemented user stories of varying complexity.

Have experience with monolithic and microservice architecture. Took part in separating of a huge monolithic service into microservices and designing new microservices using DDD, SOLID, design patterns and other best practices.

Have experience with relational and non-relational databases. Participated in designing database schemas.

Have experience working in teams of various sizes using Scrum and Kanban methodologies. Can easily integrate into a new team. Able to quickly learn new technologies. Motivated person who uses all and every opportunity to develop skills.

Good at establishing and maintaining excellent communication and relationships within the team. Always ready to help other team members.

Have experience in reviewing test tasks and conducting interviews with candidates of all levels.
