Обо мне

SUMMARY

I bring to the table over 10 years of professional experience in developing scalable backend applications, supported by a proven track record of delivering robust and scalable solutions. My proficiency spans a wide spectrum of programming languages and frameworks. I have a strong command of database management and optimization, working adeptly with both SQL and NoSQL databases.

In addition to my technical prowess, I excel in leadership and teamwork. I have effectively led and collaborated with teams, steering projects to successful outcomes. I take pride in providing mentorship and guidance to junior developers, contributing to their growth and development.

I am deeply committed to staying current with emerging technologies and industry trends, a dedication that fuels my ability to deliver high-quality code and surpass organisational objectives. I am prepared to leverage my expertise and drive innovation in any organisation I am part of
